

Managed EDR from Huntress and Wizard Computer Services, Inc.

Expert Protection for Every Business

The modern threat landscape is too complex for basic endpoint defenses alone. While large enterprises have massive budgets for security, all businesses deserve top-tier protection from attackers.
Partnering with Huntress Managed EDR levels the playing field. By combining purpose-built, enterprise-grade technology with a 24/7 team of elite threat experts, we find and evict hackers before they can cause damage.

What Is Managed EDR (and Why It Matters)

Managed Endpoint Detection and Response (EDR) is the most effective way to protect your business from sophisticated cyberattacks:

- Continuous Monitoring: It monitors for malicious process behavior and persistent footholds that traditional antivirus might miss.
- Human-Led Investigation: When a threat is detected, it isn't just an automated alert; our global SOC conducts a full investigation to triage and validate the danger.
- Rapid Containment: We don't just watch; we take action to isolate infected devices and "Stop the Spread" of an attack.

Instead of drowning you in a sea of confusing alerts, Managed EDR provides clear, actionable remediation steps to eliminate threats and get you back to work.

Why Businesses Rely on Managed EDR

- 24/7 AI- Assisted SOC Protection: Our team of experts has your back around the clock, hunting and responding to threats with an industry-leading 8-minute mean-time-to-respond (MTTR).
- Focus on Threats That Matter: We cut through the noise to surface only high-confidence, validated threats, maintaining a <1% false positive rate.
- Complete Visibility & Recovery: From initial detection to guided cleanup, you receive custom incident reports and a health dashboard to ensure your environment is secure.
- Predictable Security Budget: Our straightforward pricing includes everything you need—no hidden add-ons or pricey service tiers required.

What Makes This Solution Different

- Other EDR tools often rely on hyper-automation with low human involvement, leading to missed threats or alert fatigue. Huntress uses human-led investigation to ensure accuracy.
- Other vendors sell low-value packages and then charge extra for critical features. Huntress provides a fully-managed service with straightforward pricing.
- Other solutions require your internal team to track down and stop threats. With Huntress Managed EDR, you have a dedicated partner to handle the heavy lifting for you.

Who It's Built For

Managed EDR is a critical fit for:

- Healthcare and Finance: Organizations that must protect sensitive data and meet strict regulatory standards.
- Manufacturers and Retailers: Businesses with growing networks and connected devices that cannot afford downtime.
- Law Firms: Practices handling highly confidential client and case information.
- Any business that wants enterprise-grade protection without the enterprise-grade price tag.
