

Managed SAT from Huntress and Wizard Computer Services, Inc.

Effective Security Starts with Your People

Cybersecurity incidents caused by untrained or unsuspecting users make up the majority of incidents every year. Hackers know this, and they're targeting your users more than ever before.
Partnering with Huntress Managed SAT helps you turn the tables on hackers. With engaging and effective security awareness training (SAT) that actually shifts user behavior and helps you build a culture of security awareness, your users will go from your biggest risk to your best security asset.

What Is SAT (and Why It Matters)

SAT (Security Awareness Training) is the easiest way to strengthen your security:

- It trains your users to identify the different types of cyber threats they could encounter at any time
- It keeps them vigilant and tests their skills with simulated phishing scenarios sent to their inbox
- It builds a culture of security awareness where every employee understands their role in protecting both themselves and your organization from cyber threats

Instead of just relying on security tools to catch what your users clicked on, SAT teaches them to recognize threats and avoid compromise from the start.

Why Businesses Rely on SAT

Always Relevant Training From Elite Security Experts

Our SAT is managed by a team of elite security experts who curate episodes and phishing scenarios each month to reflect the biggest trends and threats currently targeting businesses like yours.

Higher Learner Engagement Builds a Security Culture

SAT episodes are built by a team of Emmy®-winning animators and follow a story-based format proven to boost engagement, information retention, and the development of a security culture.

Real Behavior Change, Better Security

Adult learning experts design our learning paths using frameworks proven, and third-party validated, to promote behavior change, giving learners actionable insights to improve your security.

Built on Today's Threats

Huntress manages millions of endpoints and identities daily. Each threat they see informs the training they build, keeping your learners ahead of the ever-evolving tactics hackers use.

Visibility Without the Overwhelm

You get a clear view of your entire SAT program, so you can easily track progress and prove compliance without having to manually keep tabs on compromise or completion rates.

Manage Your Human Risk

We don't stop at simply training users. Our holistic approach to human risk identifies and up-levels risky users who've clicked on a phishing scenario or triggered an incident detected by EDR or ITDR.

Compliance Made Easier

If you need to meet HIPAA, PCI, GDPR, Cyber Insurance, or other regulatory standards — or expect new requirements in the future — Managed SAT helps you stay audit-ready by training your users on these topics and tracking completion.

What Makes This Solution Different

- Other SAT lessons are built on old information found in security blogs — Huntress security researchers are the ones writing those blogs, and building up-to-date training based on emerging threats found by our SOC.
- Other SAT solutions only focus on compliance — we focus on improving security outcomes.
- Other solutions require a full team of experts to manage them — you only need us.

With Managed SAT, you're not just buying training. You're gaining a dedicated security partner.

Who It's Built For

Managed SAT is a strong fit for:

- Healthcare clinics that need to protect patient records and meet HIPAA requirements
- Financial and insurance organizations safeguarding customer data and transactions
- Manufacturers and retailers with growing networks, cloud systems, and connected devices
- Law firms handling sensitive client and case information
- Any business that can't afford downtime, data breaches, or reputational damage

If your business runs on your people, you need a security partner to keep them protected.

Let's Keep Your Business Moving

You stay focused on running and growing your business. Our team and Huntress will stay focused on watching for threats and keeping your learners ahead of them.
